Proactive planning is key to successful operations, in the field or the boardroom. Rubicon Planning, LLC is dedicated to forward thinking and proactive planning and is grounded in the belief that in planning, the logical employment of fact, institutional knowledge and earned experience will result in a plan that is actionable, timely and relevant.

For Rubicon, planning ahead requires an understanding of the Army's past and present. Rubicon provides a unique ability to help the Army meet current and future facility requirements in all the places it calls home. Changes in Army doctrine, mission, force structure, equipment, and Headquarters actions such as BRAC and other initiatives—all relate to who needs what facilities, where, when and why. Rubicon will help the Army answer those questions.
